City Express, Inc. has partnered with the Massachusetts Biotechnology Council

Boston, MA- City Express, Inc. is proud to announce that it has partnered with the Massachusetts Biotechnology Council to offer discounted courier solutions to all MBC members.

Membership with the Massachusetts Biotechnology Council presents an exciting opportunity for City Express. City Express President, Aaron Driben, states, "By partnering with the Massachusetts Biotechnology Council, City Express will have the opportunity to not only support the growth of the biotech industry, but also to stay abreast of ever changing legislation and regulatory policy that could have potential impacts on delivery methods. Our executive management team will work with members of the Massachusetts Biotech Council to develop customized delivery programs that exceed all needs and requirements."

City Express, Inc. has over twenty years of experience in time sensitive, critical package deliveries for the biotech and medical community. Their professional couriers are trained in the handling of diagnostic specimen, blood borne pathogens, confidential records, and medical equipment and can guarantee all deliveries will be made safely and on time.

Whether you need to deliver a package or a skid across the City, the Commonwealth, or the Country, you can count on City Express to deliver. According to the office manager of a multinational biotech company "When it comes to selecting a courier company, City Express is the only choice. They offer a broad array of delivery solutions to meet all of our needs- from couriating a specimen across the city in record time, to placing an On-board courier on a flight to Washington DC to file government documents- we know that we can rely on City Express' expertise twenty four hours a day!"
